ECD 240: EDUCATION OF THE YOUNG CHILD WITH EXCEPTIONALITIES

This course presents an overview of the major categories of exceptionality. Methods for identifying and working with young children in child care, recreational and educational settings are explored. Working with an interdisciplinary team and partnering with parents is a major focus. A working knowledge of resources, a comfort level for working with exceptional children and their families, and exploring the roles of professionals who work with exceptional populations are stressed. This course was previously CCP 251. Level I Prerequisite: Academic Reading and Writing Levels of 6; ECD 101 minimum grade "C"

Level I Prereq: Academic Reading and Writing Levels of 6; ECD 101 minimum grade "C"
